DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ozaki US 6,763,082 B2. Ozaki shows all of the features of the instant invention including x-ray helical CT of plural data segments over plural heartbeats with screen building (pitch, rotational speed, and shortest temporal resolution) and selection (pitch, rotational speed, scan time upper limit) with a display of temporal changes of heart rate (abstract, figure 12, and column 7 lines 1-43).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-6 and 14-20 are allowed.
4. Claims 8 and 10-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: In the claims with all the claimed limitations, claim 8 addresses a graph of temporal changes of temporal resolution versus heart rate, claim 10 addresses using a mean or median heart rate, claims 11-13 addresses the specifics of the operation of the selection device. These features are neither shown nor fairly suggested in the prior art.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hsieh et al. shows cardiac imaging.
